The Girls of Summer...

Genies compete in Provincials

Pee Wee girls' fastball teams from Elk Point and St. Paul took part in last weekend's Provincial Championships in Fort McMurray, July 8 and 9. While neither team ended up in the medals, both exhibited good sportsmanship and proved to be enthusiastic ambassadors for their communities.

The St. Paul Royals, coached by Eileen Boulianne and Linda Krawchuk, competed against seven other teams in the Pee Wee 'B' category. They lost their first game Saturday morning to a Calgary team, and were equally unlucky in their Saturday evening contest against the home town Fort McMurray team, which eventually won the championship. Despite their losses, the team remained cheerful and reported enjoying their participation in the event.

Elk Point's Empress Genies, coached by Linda Ference, Coral Tremblay and Daphne Schnurer, stayed in the running in the Pee

Town Council studies combined FCSS - Rec Board

Elk Point Town Council studied the possibility of combining the Family and Community Support Services and Recreation and Cultural boards and departments into a single entity known as the Community Services Board and Department, at their July 4 meeting. A number of towns operate in this way, with a single board for the two functions, operating on committees to handle the various aspects. Some towns have a single director with two coordinators, while others have separate directors for FCSS and Recreation and Culture. Council moved to accept the concept of a combined board in principle, with the Personnel committee to meet with the existing boards to discuss the matter.

The Town has received approval of a substantial capital and operational grant under the Municipal Recreation / Tourism Areas Program, and will meet with a representative of Alberta Recreation and Parks at their next regular meeting to discuss the best ways to utilize the funding. It was noted that there are no further grant funds this year available through the ABCD Program, which had been considered for further development at the Rec Land.

Council met with John Williams of the Elk Point Municipal Hospital Board, who presented Council with the Hospital's financial statement for the year ending March 31, 1989. A portion of the statement is published in this issue. The Hospital's public relations were discussed, with Mayor Bruce Kleeberger suggesting open meetings for the Hospital Board, with the public invited to attend. Williams indicated he would suggest this to the executive, and noted that while it has never been publicized, the public is free to come to such portions of the meetings that are not, by necessity, held in camera.

Council also met with two officials of Alberta Mortgage and Housing Corporation regarding a proposed reduced purchase price for residential and industrial land bank and industrial land development properties. The Town indicated they would try to sell these properties at the reduced rate, but noted that they are not in a position to purchase the land themselves at this time. Administrator Pat Vincent was asked to put together a package for each property, diagramming adjustments and considerations which could be made, location and size of parcels, per acre land costs, offsite levies, and the legal and administration costs involved.

Elk Point to take part in health care connection

Elk Point will once again be among the communities represented at the Northern Alberta Development Council-sponsored Health Care Connection, which will take place Thursday, September 28 in Edmonton.

Representatives of the Hospital Administration, Town of Elk Point and Chamber of Commerce met recently with Cynthia Bailey of the Rural Health Care Association of Alberta to discuss their participation in the event. Students from the faculties of Nursing, Medicine, Physiotherapy, Occupational Therapy, Speech Therapy, Pharmacy, Dentistry, Psychiatric Nursing and Social Work will be invited to meet the representatives of northern Alberta communities and find out more about the opportunities that living and working in these communities could bring them.

Following last year's Health Care Connection, 12 professionals were recruited to communities for permanent and summer employment as well as rural practicums, and a further 18 are strongly considering permanent employment. One new doctor came to Bonnyville as the result of the HCC, and Elk Point Hospital Administrator Clem Johnson indicated that his hospital has done a lot of follow-up on contacts made at the event.

The Health Care Connection is of great benefit to both communities and to students in health care fields, providing both with an opportunity to get to know one another and to find out what each has to offer the other.

Junior citizens

Two local teens are among the candidates from across Alberta who will be judged for the Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year Awards in the near future. Both Jackie Gulayec and Joanne Wolanuk are members of the 1989 graduating class at F. G. Miller High School, and are well known for their community involvement. Both are also past winners of the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce Youth of the Year awards.

The Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year Awards program, now in its 28th year, is co-sponsored by Alberta Power Limited and Trans Alta Utilities, in cooperation with Alberta Weekly Newspapers Association. Lieutenant Governor Helen Hunley will present ten awards at a special luncheon during the AWNA Convention in Calgary, September 22.

We in Elk Point are well aware of the characteristics of good citizenship which these two young ladies exhibit, and wish them both well in the contest.

Wee 'C' category considerably longer. Following an initial 10-7 loss to Calgary Marlboroughs, they came back to defeat Lethbridge 23-15, High River 15-5 and Fort McMurray 14-11 with a combination of skilful batting and well coordinated field work. The untiring efforts of pitcher Tanya McLaughlin, who also contributed 4 home runs to the scoring, combined with those of catcher Candace Ference to head a very competitive team which kept the large contingent of Elk Point fans cheering lustily. Tanya struck out a total of 35 batters in the 5 games, and walked 13 more. Kara Serniak hit 3 home runs, Lisa Lesyk and Candace Ference a pair apiece, and Charlene Anderson and Jennifer Jaskinsky one each.

Elk Point's town flag was still flying high at the fifth game, when the girls took on Vegreville, with the score tied at 10-10 at the end of the seventh inning.

Vegreville's first batter was soon put out, but the second landed on second base after a long hit, later making it back to home plate to count a single point.

Their third batter struck out, and their fourth found her way all the way to third base before Candace Ference caught the next batter's fly to put Elk Point back at bat. Unfortunately, their opponents' agility kept Elk Point completely at bay in their final turn at bat, and they lost by a single point.

Kitscoty Pee Wees were the eventual winners of the 'C' Championship, while Calgary Marlboroughs won the silver. Three Edmonton teams and teams from Grassland, Crownsnest Pass, St. Albert and Thorhild also took part in the 'C' tournament.

What's news at the library?

The Summer Reading Program is finally here! If you haven't taken part in the fun, please come and join us. There are two programs, one for pre-school aged children and one for elementary aged children. The pre-school program is every Friday at 10:00 a.m. and the elementary program is every Tuesday at 10:00 a.m. Last weeks activities included: squeeze bottle painting, monoporead game and stories for the elementary children and bubble blowing, stories, fingerplays and games for the pre-schoolers. Each week has different fun activities planned, so come down and check it out!

Last week Thirty-five children turned out for our first Thursday afternoon matinee, entitled "Denver,

The Last Dinosaur". This Thursday, July 13, our feature will be "The Secret of Nymph," the show starts at 2:00 p.m. and is free. So don't miss this afternoon of entertainment!

The Board and staff would like to thank artist Billy Milholland for the donation of her art work entitled "Wagon Wheels". This painting will enhance a wall in the library.

Horse show first event for new club grounds

By Myrna Golden

Elk Point & District Light Horse Club

Here are the boys hard at work getting our riding ring ready for the Horse Show. This will be the first event to be held on our land leased from the County of St. Paul, and we are looking forward to many more activities at our new headquarters.

The riding ring is just the beginning of this project which hopefully will include such further items as an additional ring, clubhouse, pole barns and corrals. With a little luck and a lot of hard work, we will eventually reach these goals, but in the meantime, I think we have made a great start.

Our Horse Show is on Sunday, July 16 at 10:00 a.m. and we invite everyone to come out to participate or cheer on the contestants. This invitation also includes our other upcoming events such as the Happy Trails Wagon Train on August 6 to 12 and the Poker Rally on Aug. 20.

During the Wagon Train we really enjoy having people stop by for a visit and a cup of campfire coffee. This year our train has two layovers, one at Fort George on August 6, and one at Muriel Lake on August 9 which gives a good opportunity for socializing, both for people on the train and their visitors.

You can see we have a busy schedule of events ahead of us, and we look forward to their success. We hope to see many of you at our outings and there is just one little favor to ask: cross your fingers and pray for good weather.

Thanks, and see you all!

Crop report

Showers continue to give good growing conditions to crops in the Elk Point area. Spraying is virtually completed, despite weather delays.

Wheat and barley crops are beginning to head out, while 80 percent of canola is blooming and another 10 percent in the podding stage.

The potential average yield per acre, based on current crop conditions, is near 50 bushels per acre for wheat, 80 bushels per acre for oats, 60 bushels per acre for barley, 30 bushels per acre for rye, and 20 bushels per acre for canola.

Great kids

We've said it before and we'll say it again: we have great kids in this community.

Some of them win medals in sports ranging from badminton to track and field to figure skating. Some strike out an average of seven batters per ball game, and some catch countless fly balls to put the opposition on the run. Some compete in hockey, some in soccer, some in gymnastics.

Some of our youths excel at public speaking, and some in scholastic pursuits. Every year, we have several Rutherford Scholarship winners, and a long list of achievers who receive medals and plaques at school award days.

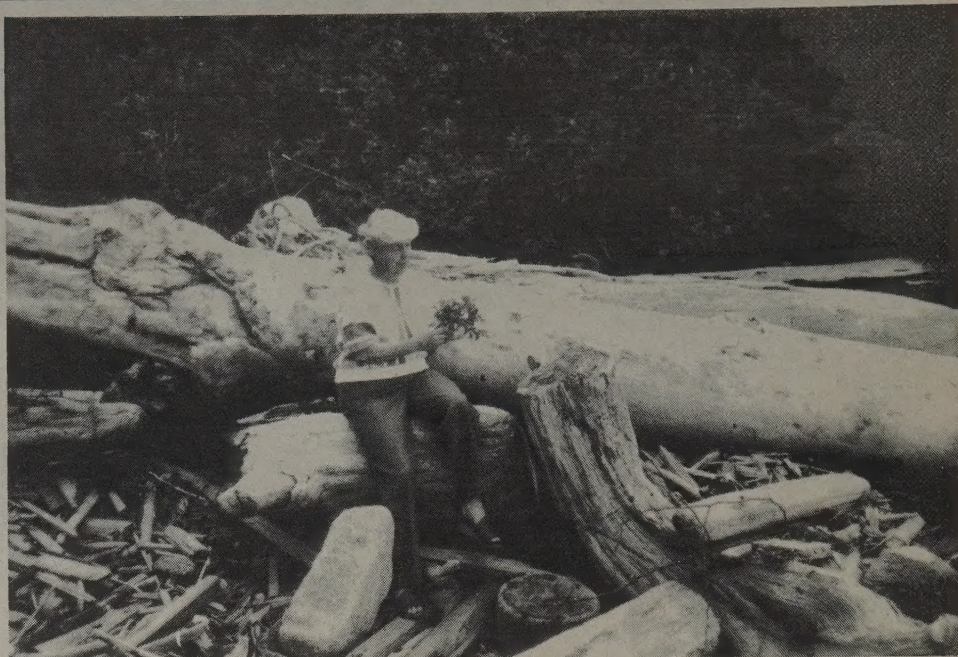

Others show their achievements as part of a club activity, such as Ukrainian Dancing or 4-H. Our dancers have represented us well at competitions and exhibitions from Prince Albert to the ACT Telerama, while we have not one but TWO 4-H Interclub champions this year!

Again this year, local young people have been nominated for the Junior Citizen of the Year Awards. It makes us at the Review very proud to have nominees from our area, and we will be even more proud if one is selected as an award recipient, this year or some year in the future.

Above all, it's great to be part of a community where the news about young people is 99 percent good news, rather than the stories about vandalism, assault and other inappropriate behavior on the part of children and teenagers that are all too common in some communities.

Keep up the good work, kids!

Roses Above Driftwood

My sister Virginia finds wild roses above the driftwood, near Sointula, B.C., lovely enough to admire, even in a land where tame roses abound.

Alberta Trails

Only a rose

By Irene Magnusson

"Only a rose, I give you," (remember the old song?) "I'll bring along" - etc... "for you, only a rose will do!" An expression of true love, the lover knows that all other flowers pale, the rose is our queen of flowers, so of course - only a rose will do.

Ignoring all the multi-shades, shapes and types of cultivated roses, let us dwell only on the wild rose, our sweet-scented, roadside beautifier, the chosen emblem of our province, that pretty pink bloom out there among the green. What means Alberta, or the prairies, for that matter, more than the roses?

The first week of July, where I live in east-central Alberta, the wild roses are in full blush of their beauty. Rains have been generous, and with more cloudy days, the bright pink blooms are even brighter, they stay on longer - and there are millions of them. I see them here in my woods, edging the yard, along the driveway - and, glorious sight, lining the roadside once again, as they were forever meant to do.

Why is that a big deal? In the past decade or so, there has been a concerted effort by counties, the province and powerline companies, to destroy all growth - except quackgrass and dandelions - from our roadsides, under the mistaken belief, I suppose, that we ignorant natives wouldn't know the difference, and so have spray-killed annually, thus making our roadsides as ugly, naked and barren as they were able, wiping out large colonies of wild roses, and their kin, along with multitudes of other wildflowers, shrubs and - while they were at it - birds, and other small wildlife.

For some reason, and I DO hope it is a permanent one, last year and this has seen no roadside slaughter (in my area) of miles of wildflowers. If this is a new and permanent policy, I praise it and thank those who reached such a wise decision. If it is only temporary, then I will enjoy the recess while it lasts and loudly lament its ending, if it comes. Meanwhile, these tenacious little wild roses have been able to renew themselves from some deep roots, and once again are establishing their rightful place along the country way.

Our wild prairie rose is but one of a very large family. We are blessed with four varieties from its family which is called ROSACEAE. We have the 'prickly rose', most common, the 'low prairie rose' - often seen blooming late in September (very short stems), the 'smooth rose' - larger flowered and more likely seen in the south prairies, and the 'wood's rose', which, naturally, grows more in the woods, and gets the tallest (up to six or seven feet tall.) The 'prickly rose' is our Alberta emblem flower.

And by any other name they'd smell as sweet.

Roses are useful; as hedges, they would keep out dogs and such larger animals. They hold the soil from drifting, keep down weeds, and are food for the soul. The seedpods, called 'hips' or 'rose apples', turn bright red, will stay on the bush all winter, and are lovely to look at above the snow. They make very good partridge food, also eaten by squirrels, coyotes and other birds.

Many other common plants are members of the Rose family. To name a few: plums, cherries, raspberries, strawberries - and would you believe - apples? So saith R.G.H. Cormack in 'Wild Flowers of Alberta.' And I'll take his word any day. Rose leaves, unfortunately, are considered as suitable food by the forest tent caterpillars, and it is a bit odd to see a rose bush, covered with flowers, but completely nude of leaves.

Another use the caterpillars make of rosebushes, if they have already sated their appetite, is to roll up the leaves and hang their cocoons within.

I have personally gathered the red roseapples on their branches, dried them and used them for winter decoration. As a kid, we picked them, thread them on string and used them for Christmas tree ornamentations. It's a real treat, as the snows of winter grows, to see a partridge wander into the yard, able to reach further and further up the branches for the red fruit, as he gathers his meal for the day, or sometimes perched on a stump or branch, as he collects his fill.

Another variety, claimed by the Americans, is the 'California rose', it grows from the southern Oregon to northern California, says my Audubon Nature Encyclopedia. They list also, desert sweet, creambush, mountain mahogany, chamisebrush, blackbrush and antelope brush, as members of the Rose family, as well as blackberries and strawberries. In addition, they mention wild cherries, wild plum and chokecherries, all as part of the ROSACEAE tribe, then go on to add crabapples, shadberries, service berries and hawthorns to their list. We can begin to feel the Rose Family to be fairly large.

I remember, as a kid, my Mother told me that my Dad's family, who farmed near Waukon, Iowa, had these bushes in their garden called "love apples," which they considered poisonous. They grew them as a novelty-ornament. We grow them, and call them "tomatoes."

In my wanderings in the woods and along the country trails, I have seen wild roses with as many as ten petals (usually five), all shades of pink, from white through creamy, to deepest pink, some with flecks of red. All were beautiful. I never saw one endangering a powerline, or threatening a passerby. A toast to our Wild Alberta Rose!

"then here a stand of Wild Alberta roses bloom lush and pink - with no concession to the passing crowds though littered there with bits and pieces thrown down by careless hands, capricious winds.

She does her best to cover o'er the ugly with drooping boughs and fills the morning air with sweet perfume; exposing beauty with a generous show; (though none should say for show alone when winter birds find forage on her berries borne startling red above December snows.) Unless uprooted by the harsh hand of man Alberta wild rose proudly holds her own.

Excerpt From 'Wild Alberta Rose', Seasons

By Irene Magnusson. 1982

How many song titles do you know, containing the word "ROSE"? I have 30-something, on my list. How many can you come up with? Let's compare - next week.

Matters of opinion

During the past few weeks, we have received a goodly number of letters to the editor. We like that. We have printed as many as space would permit, but were unable to print some others because the writers did not include their name, address and phone numbers. This is not to say that the names must be printed with the letters (although this WOULD be preferable, and would save us countless phone calls from people inquiring who wrote the letters—incidentally, we do NOT release this information) - a pen name is acceptable. We reserve the right to edit your letters for length, spelling, punctuation and grammar if necessary, and nothing libelous will be printed.

We do want to hear your opinions, and it is far more appropriate that you express these in print than by a phone call from someone who will not even give us their name. You, like those who have already written, have a right to your opinion, and a right to express it on this page, as long as it is done in the correct manner.

We especially like to hear about things that have been done RIGHT—these are a nice change from all the things which are wrong with the world. Your bouquets to groups and individuals are more than welcome here.

So—keep those cards and letters coming in!

Over thirty students and nine teachers of Elk Point's Class of '64 were once again together on the Canada Day weekend, for a time filled to bursting with 'remembering when' and catching up on the events of the past 25 years. For some, it was the first time together since the high school doors closed behind them, while others had been present at an earlier reunion in 1979.

It was a time to pore over the old school yearbooks, giggling at the old nicknames and chuckling at the Senior Class Prophecy, for saying, 'Did we REALLY look like that?' and 'You haven't changed a bit!', for introducing spouses and children, and for getting reacquainted with school days friends.

The weekend included participation in the Canada Day Parade, a special church service and brunch at Elk Point United Church, and an afternoon gathering and banquet at Stoney Lake Hall. The weatherman was not noted for his cooperation, but the cool winds and showers were ignored in the warm glow of friendship.

The reunion was organized by Millie Orr, with the assistance of Billie Milholland. Work began many months ago as Millie, the diligent detective, found addresses for most of the former students, not only the graduates, but also the other Grade 12 students of that year, and others who had been their classmates in earlier grades. Sherri Park, then Shirley Shaluka, attended only Grade One with the class.

Millie was assisted by husband Jim and son Jeff in coordinating and serving up the after-church brunch, where the former students also had a chance to become reacquainted with other residents of the Elk Point district. Millie also arranged for the hall accommodation and banquet catering. Billie assembled lists of names and addresses of teachers and students, and wrote up a most entertaining summary of 'General Info and Other Gossip' about the students.

Following the reunion, she noted several 'Delightful Discoveries' about her former classmates. Barbara (Merrick) Graham came from the farthest away, Ear Falls, Ontario, to attend the reunion. Gary Andri-shak, who has gained renown as an architect and who designed the imaginative Alberta Pavilion at Expo '86, was rated 'most interesting.' Eddie Hawryluk, who was the only one to fulfil the Class Prophecy by becoming an engineer, is 'still handsome,' while Calgary businesswoman Sherri Park and makeup artist Gloria Jean (Mykytiw) Bronson, who has her own line of cosmetics, are in Billie's words, 'disgustingly ravishing.' Paul Davis, a medical doctor in Calgary, is 'intriguingly successful.'

The present occupations of the remainder of the class range from 'starving artist' to nurse, from farmer to business owner to lab technician. But, just for one weekend, they were again the carefree Class of '64, reliving the adventures of their happy high school years.

The awesome day

By Trisha Best

Grade 6A Elk Point Elementary

We started planning the trip a month ahead of time. We were planning on going May 2. Finally the day arrived. I was so excited that for once I couldn't wait to go to school.

A few days earlier we decided where we were going to sit on the bus. I got to sit with my friend in the fifth seat on the left. We had raised money for the trip by selling popcorn and having dances.

When the time had come, guess what - the bus was late. The driver said that the bus wouldn't start, but we made it anyway.

We had group leaders to stay with so we wouldn't get lost anywhere. Our group leaders name was Mrs. Tremblay. She was nice, she let us wander by ourselves but we had to tell her where we were going first.

Our first stop was at Vegreville. We stopped there because almost everyone had to go to the washroom very bad! Later down the road we saw a sign saying:
Elk Island National Park

That's where the bison are supposed to be. We drove on and saw a bison along the fence.

It was getting close to lunch time. I could tell because my stomach was growling and gurgling. Then the supervisors said we could eat, but we had to eat on the bus because we were kind of behind schedule.

I had a pastrami sandwich, an orange, Tree House blend juice to drink, and some cookies. The cookies were the best.

We drove into Edmonton and drove to the Space Sciences Centre. Mr. Wruth, the bus driver, took us there. After a few corners and turns we got there.

We went inside and looked at the displays and exhibits. Then I and my friend Karen went around a corner and a girl from a different school stopped Karen and said, "Hey, that guy over there likes you. What's your phone number? He wants it." Karen just walked away in disgust.

Then it was time to watch one of the movies. It was called "Space Quiz." It was about planets and what they're like. We also learned why the sky is blue but I forget why. In the middle there is a camera that can project 10,000 stars on the dome like ceiling. The chairs that we sat in tilted back and were really padded and comfortable. After that movie we went to the IMAX theatre.

The first theatres' screen was big and on the ceiling. I don't remember how long or wide it was. The second theatre was very long and tall. The screen was about 4 stories high and 5 stories wide.

The second movie was made by the astronauts themselves. It was cool. First before they launched off they were practising for emergency escapes. They went into these baskets and the baskets went down towards a net. The net got closer and closer to us. BOOM! it hit the net. Everybody probably colse their eyes but I didn't.

On our way out we stopped at the souvenir shop. Almost no one bought anything because it was so expensive, or if they did buy anything, it was most likely to be "cheap junk".

Then we left to load the bus and get ready to leave to the water park. When everyone was loaded and Mr. Wruth went to start the bus, guess what - it didn't start! We had to give it a boost with Daniel's parent's car, then it started up.

Mr. Wruth drove away from the Space Sciences Center and headed towards the water park. The traffic was pretty thick the way we were going. Then we finally got there, after having to drive around the mall.

When we got out of the bus we had to find our group leaders so they could count heads and we could get on with it.

We paid to get into the water park then we got changed in the change rooms and the lockers cost $.50. Imagine $.50 just for a locker.

Then we went out into the water park. I went on a waterslide but Karen didn't want to because she's scared of water, so I went with Tammy. We went on the Blue Bullet. You got into the waterslide through tunnels that are pitch black, around corners and down a drop, into a tunnel again, then around a few corners, and then you're out.

The wave pool was fun also. When a horn blows, the waves come out. You go really far out in the pool and jump when the waves come and you float over top of them. It's lots of fun but I didn't see somebody that I was looking for. It's a secret, and they're not from Elk Point, not even close.

It was time to go and have supper in the mall. We went to this section of the mall where the restaurants were. Karen and I went to McDonalds (The "good time - great taste" - you know). I ordered a Quarter Pounder with cheese, small fries, large coke and of course, a Garfield figurine. Everyone that went to McDonald's got a Garfield figurine. Some people even got two.

Before we left I went to get some snacks for on the way home. I stopped at the Mini Mart and some other place. Then we got with our group leader and went out of the mall towards a place where the bus was supposed to be, but of course, it was late again, so we waited and waited for at least fifteen minutes or so until it came.

We loaded the bus and drove away from Edmonton. It took over half an hour before we even got out of Edmonton.

We drove past the Elk Island National Park again and saw more bison than we did the first time. Then we stopped at Vegreville "The main poddy place." We stopped at the same place we did when we came, and again, more than half the bus people went out. Some just went out to get a drink to go and others went to go to the bathroom.

We drove past, Hairy Hill and then past Two Hills. Someone said they named Hairy Hill because a bunch of buffalo or bison rubbed on the trees and their hair stuck to the trees so that's why they called it Hairy Hill.

Then we passed Two Hills, which wasn't very exciting. We came to a railroad track and Mr. Wruth stopped and opened the door. I don't know why he does that.

We made it to the second hill where you could see the warm lights welcoming us back home. We crossed the Saskatchewan River, we drove up the hill and tada - we're home! Mr. Wruth drove us to the school where most of our parents were waiting for us.

My mom was in the crowd and she took me home where I fell asleep very fast.

I think that, that field trip was the most exciting and best one I've ever been on. Next time I hope to go to Fantasyland!

See and be seen...daytime driving lights increase your visibility, and drive defensively...considerate of road, traffic and weather conditions.

Film Makers

John Soldan (Producer), Thom Best (Dir. of Photography) and Adrien McKechnie (Director) proudly accept their "Best Over-All Film-Video" Award, from AMPIA, for their film, earlier in the year, as well as "Best Film over 5 Minutes," awarded by SAIT.

Young Albertans reach for the top

By Irene Magnusson

A group of young Albertans are working hard to build a name for themselves in the highly competitive field of film making. Their efforts were rewarded, when they received, early in 1989, each a plaque from the Southern Alberta Institute of Technology (S.A.I.T.) in Calgary, for "Best Film Over 5 Minutes" - a prized compliment to their ability.

The icing on that cake was receiving "Best Over-All Film/Video Award", as a group, from the Alberta Motion Picture Industry Association (AMPPIA) at a later date.

These young men, John Soldan, producer, Adrien McKechnie, Director, and Thom Best, Director of Photography, earned these awards for a film produced (mostly at SAIT) called "Film - An Investor's Jewel" last year, designed to encourage investors to see the Alberta film industry as a suitable and expanding trade, warranting their financial backing.

Elk Point may well be proud of its native son, who has spearheaded this step into the expanding film industry in Alberta. John Soldan, son of Ed Soldan of Elk Point, has been working toward this goal for most of his life, always evincing an interest in the film field.

Presently, Soldan and McKechnie have formed a company, "The Quintessential Film Company, Inc." for the purpose of creating a feature film, which they plan to shoot on locations in and around Elk Point, commencing in August of 1990. The proposed story is a creation of Soldan's, but a script writer, to do the actual writing, will be hired in the near future. Meanwhile, these two young men will be spending the coming few months working in a Japanese film, titled "Heaven and Earth", now in production, on location in Alberta. They will be part of an ancient Japanese army, complete with soldiers' armor of the day.

The Japanese film, "Heaven and Earth," is the fourth film to be directed by Kadokawa, who is president of Japan's second-largest publishing firm. It is an epic, set in the 15th century, a contest between two young would-be rulers of a province of Japan, and as well a conflict between two opposing cultures. Two of Japan's top stars will head the cast. The 'battle' scenes will be filmed in Alberta, on location at the Stoney Indian Reservation, near Calgary. Total Japanese and Canadian crew will be around 300.

Acting as soldiers in the film will provide experience for the young film makers, as well as some folding currency, and no doubt, make for a busy and interesting summer.

Letter to the Editor

Letter to a saddle thief

You were so bold, so brazen when you broke into our home on the morning of July 4, 1989. You parked your vehicle beside one of the sheds and one of you stood on guard outside smoking a cigarette while the other crept inside the house to select the items that you considered readily saleable.

You only have five minutes so you must make maximum use of your time. Quickly you peek into the livingroom and carefully unfasten the VCR from the television set. This is a nice little prize and it's no good to anybody if the wires are cut or the cords broken. Searching hastily through the house you also discover a pair of binoculars sitting on the counter and a pair of Ladies Western Riding Boots in a bedroom closet. Too bad there's no money lying around.

But what you are really after are the saddles. This is your specialty. You dash downstairs and discover a western saddle hanging by a rope from the rafters of the ceiling. Now this is more like it! You don't have a knife to slash the rope so you must ever so carefully raise the saddle to obtain some slack and free your prize. But this has cost you valuable seconds and it's time to get out of here. You hastily gather up "your" items and load them up for a quick getaway.

Meanwhile your friend outside is smiling in the driver's seat because while you were sweating inside the house he took a quick peek inside the garage and found a dandy - a top of the line Eamor Roping Saddle complete with saddle bags and a rain slicker! He's already got it loaded and is waiting for you to jump in. A second later, you peel out of the driveway and are off.

You wipe the sweat off your brow. That was really hard work and didn't get caught. You're feeling pretty proud of yourself because you are the best. You are a saddle thief.

As for myself, I resent the fact that you had the audacity to break into my home and steal my property that I have worked for and cared for over the years. I resent the fact that you will sell my boots for a bottle of booze and a pack of cigarettes. I resent the fact that you stole my saddle that my Grandmother had given me when I was thirteen years old. I resent the fact that you stole my husband's saddle in which he has worked cattle and ridden the trails in four provinces over the past fourteen years. But for you nothing is sacred. You are a saddle thief.

To all concerned electors

Are you wondering about what is really going on at the hospital? Are you wondering why Marvin Bjornstad is having so many disagreements with the board? Are you wondering why Diana Anderson resigned after so many years of dedicated service, and what this code of ethics is all about? Most of all are you wondering why all the secrecy is necessary?

If you are at all concerned about what is happening at Elk Point Hospital and want to do something about it, here are some suggestions.

1. Voice your concern to your MLA, John Drobot, and Minister of Health, Nancy Betkowski. You can reach them free of charge by telephoning the government RITE number in St. Paul, 645-6212, and asking for their offices.

2. Start thinking about running for or electing new responsible board members in the fall.

A change is needed - please everyone, do your part to make it happen.

In Memoriam

BARTLING, Bill

In loving memory of a dear Husband, Father and Grandfather, Bill Bartling, who passed away July 8th, 1987.

Time speeds on, two years have passed, Since death its gloom, its shadow cast, Within our home, where all seemed bright, And took from us a shining light. We miss that light, and ever will, His vacant place there is none can fill. Down here we mourn, but not in vein, For up in Heaven we will meet again.

Forever remembered and sadly missed by Wife, Son and Family.

ASHBY, Sophie

In loving memory of a dear Mother, Grandmother, and Sister, Sophie Ashby, who passed away July 10th, 1988.

One year has gone since you left us, Gone are the days we used to share, But in our hearts, you will always be there. Deep within our hearts memories are kept, Of one we loved and will never forget. They say that time will heal our sorrow, and help us forget, But so far time only lets us know, How much we miss you yet. You were always there when we needed you, With loving heart and willing hands, For us you did them all. Loved and remembered day by day, Memories of treasures no one can steal, Death is a heartache no one can heal. Life must go on that is true, It's not the same since you left us. You left quietly without saying good-bye, But memories of you will never die.

Sadly missed by Daughter Ella, Son-In-Law Ed Hillebrand, Grandchildren - Darlene, Marlene, Sharon, Cheryl, Roxanne, and David Hillebrand and Sister Mary Rivard.
